

Better

Nathan Zwald & Andrea Pushkar

I don't pretend to understand you
I don't claim to know your plan
I just never thought that you would lead me here
I thought I knew you better

I don't mean to disbelieve you
I don't mean to shut you out
I just never thought that you would lead me here
I guess I thought I knew you better

I don't want to be a skeptic
I don't mean to be naïve
I only want to know you and now what I believe
Lord teach me how to trust you
Show me who you are
'Cause I know I can love you better

My eyes have seen all you've accomplished
But my heart remains in doubt
I just never thought that you would lead me here
I need to know you better

I only want that you would answer
Then I question your reply
I just never thought that you would lead me here
I guess I need to know you better
